ASSESSMENT NOTICE EXPLANATION

Understanding the lines of information

Sometimes there are multiple lines for the land and improvements. This happens when there are different uses for different sections of land or different types of improvements. To understand what use property is valued under view the list of categories link to the category description page.

This is a list of Taxing Districts that are supported by your property tax dollars. Their phone numbers and the date of their budget hearing is also provided. Since property taxes are budget driven, if you want to have an impact on your property tax liability, ATTEND THESE MEETINGS.

This line shows the category and description of anything in addition to the land, such as a home or an outbuilding. These are also called “improvements” to the land. This does not mean that you made any improvements since last year. It is just a term used among appraisers. There can be more than one improvement line.

Only two property owners print regardless of how many owners there are.

The property address will appear here.

No appeals are accepted after the 4th Monday in June or date listed here.

The mailing address provided by the owner will appear here.

This is the amount of the Homeowners Exemption. If this is blank there isn’t an exemption. If you believe that you should have one, contact the Assessor’s office by the deadline.

This is a list of Taxing Districts that are supported by your property tax dollars. Their phone numbers and the date of their budget hearing is also provided. Since property taxes are budget driven, if you want to have an impact on your property tax liability, ATTEND THESE MEETINGS.

Understanding the lines of information

Sometimes there are multiple lines for the land and improvements. This happens when there are different uses for different sections of land or different types of improvements. To understand what use property is valued under view the list of categories link to the category description page.